Mokena to Push Sewer Plans; New Officials to Get More Pay

Contracts between the village of Mokena and its engineer and attorney for their services in conjunction with the sewage system for the village were agreed upon Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the village board.

The board also discussed purchase of a site for the proposed sewage treatment plant and representatives of the village are scheduled to meet with the owner of one of the potential sites and his attorney Friday to ascertain if an agreement can be reached.

Under the contract with the engineer, Robert Hamilton, of Joliet, he will be paid for his work on the sewer project on a percentage basis according to the standard agreement recommended by the American Society of Engineers. Hamilton, who made a survey and drafted preliminary plans for the system, together with an analysis of costs and financing of the improvement, has not received any payment for his services yet. Under his contract he will receive $2,500 on April 1 and a similar sum May 1. The remainder of his fee will be paid as the work progresses.

Ray Hoolehan, village attorney, will also be paid on a percentage basis for the work he performs in connection with the sewer project.

Hamilton is proceeding with final plans for the improvement and bids will be asked by the village as soon as they are completed.

In his regular capacity of village attorney, Hoolehan was instructed to investigate and ascertain if the village has a legal or moral obligation to complete payments on water mains extended several years ago at the cost of private individuals. These mains, it was pointed out, constitute a part of the village system.

The village also completed payment on a truck which it had been using on a rental basis with an option to apply the payments on the purchase price. The truck was purchased from the Swanberg Farm and Auto Service for approximately $1,100.

The trustees also voted to buy a rebuilt adding machine for use of the village treasurer.

An ordinance was adopted to put Fred Steinhagen, village maintenance man, under social security rather than under the municipal retirement act.

An ordinance also was adopted under which the mayor, clerk and three trustees to be elected April 16, will get a raise in pay. Trustees will get $10 a meeting instead of $5. The mayor is to get $15 a meeting instead of $7.50. The clerk, who receives $150 a year, will get $250 a year under the new scale, plus $10 for each special meeting he attends.

The law forbids trustees to raise their own salaries which is why the board acted prior to election. And by the same token the trustees whose terms do not

Sewer System Seen as "Must" For Frankfort

Altho the move for a sewer system for the village of Frankfort has been halted by action of the voters it will have to be carried out eventually.

This was the feeling expressed at the village board meeting Monday night when official canvass was made of the vote cast in the sewer bond election Feb. 23. There was no change in the totals. The question of whether to issue $75,000 in general obligation bonds to meet a part of the costs of the proposed sewer project was beaten by 41 votes, 151 to 110.

Observers believe defeat of the bond issue was due largely to a lack of understanding of the various questions involved.

There was a public meeting prior to the election at which the village engineers and officials discussed the various phases of the improvement and answered questions. But some of the people apparently did not understand some of the details and so voted against it.

Some thought the 12 inch main recommended by the engineers was too small. Others thought it might be too costly.

Village officials believe that eventually the state will compel the village to install a sewer system and sewage treatment plant and to be ready for such a contingency looking now for site for the plant.

Some housing projects are talked of for the area but before they pass the talking stage they will be screened by the planning commission.

Frankfort has a planning commission and a zoning board and so is prepared to keep control over building within a radius of a mile and a half of the corporate limits.

The planning commission is made up of Sherrill Weichbrodt, Walter Harnack, Adam Heusner, Burton Breidert and Wesley DePorto. The zoning board is made up of Clarence Heisner, Walter Baumgartner, Conrad Oetter, Frank Eisenbrandt and Glenn Schroeder.

expire for another two years will not benefit by the increase.

Trustees Ray Westlund, Lym-an Teague and Willard Munch will continue to be paid $5 a meeting to the end of their term. Their successors, themselves if they run again and are reelected, will get the increase in pay.

James Smetana, who has been serving the village as a police officer for a probationary period, has been hired as such on a permanent basis and a phone will be installed in his home for the acceptance of police calls.

Four persons are dead and seven injured as a result of three highway accidents in the area last week-end.

A woman was killed outright in a 2-car crash on U. S. Rt. 45, half a mile north of U. S. 30 late Friday night and her infant granddaughter died Sunday afternoon in Silver Cross hospital.

The other two fatalities resulted as a result of a crash on U. S. Rt. 6 early Sunday morning on what is known as the Mailey curve. A car went out of control, left the pavement and over turned. The two occupants were killed. No other vehicles were involved.

The other accident, which occurred about 11 o'clock Friday night on Rt. 30 near Lincoln-

Christendom to Observe Lent

Lent, which began yesterday Ash Wednesday - will continue until Easter, which this year falls on April 21.

Churches throuth the area plan special services during the Lenten period.

Such services will have their climax in those scheduled for Holy Week which will have its beginning on Palm Sunday and running thru Easter morning.

Lent is the season on the Church calendar which represents the 40 days Christ spent alone in the wilderness. It is a penitential period when Christians subject themselves to self examination and thru meditation and prayer to forsake worldly things and turn to those of the spirit.

Most churches in the area plan services on Wednesday nights during Lent and of course there will be services on other days. Details of Lenten observance in various communities will be found in the regular notices on the church page.

Firemen Change Meeting Night to Tuesday in Lent

Because local churches will hold services on Wednesday night during Lent, the Mokena volunteer fire department which meets regularly on the second Wednesday of the month will change their March and April meetings to Tuesday night.

The March meeting will be held next Tuesday, the 12th and the one for April will be the 9th.

Last Sunday the department made two runs, one to the grass fire on Wolf road about a mile and a half south of Route 30, and the other to extinguish a gasoline fire in a well drilling rig at Scott st., and Wolf road. The outfit is said to have been owned by a Joliet firm and the fire started, it was reported, when the operator filled the gasoline tank while the engine was running.

Firemen also extinguished a grass fire on North Woodland circle drive Monday and Tuesday night there was a brush fire on Wolf road at the top of cemetery hill. And last week, early Wednesday morning, an old car burned at the home of Marvin Fisher, 193rd street and 114th avenue.

L. Brownlee Co. Builds New Machine For New Service

The L. Brownlee Co., Mokena South Wolf road, has added to their business a new service, the only one of its kind in this wide area. It is the sharpening and repairing of lawn mowers, and small gas engines.

For this purpose new equipment has been added. Not only added, but newly designed by the company. It is their own electric balancing machine wherein they balance blades on all rotary mowers.

Seeing that they have designed such a machine for this purpose, it is understandable there is no other of its kind on the market and none in this area.

In the manufacture of garden and mowing equipment the L. Brownlee Co., has designed and built various machines to aid production.

Open House Held By Mokena Bank Attracts Crowd

The open house held last Thursday evening in the newly remodeled Mokena State Bank, drew a crowd of more than 750.

Looks are sometimes deceiving, and so it seemed in this case, as everyone was surprised at the large amount of space that was added by the remodeling and addition. Everything is modern from equipment to the decorations of the wall and the cooking cove wherein meals can be prepared if it becomes necessary. The many bouquets of flowers added to the festive appearance.

Mrs. Alma Brown, caterer, presided at the serving table, wherein friends stopped for a cup of coffee or punch and cake.

Wyoming granted women suffrage in 1869.

Danville Boasts 'No Child Hurt in 25 Years'

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

SCHOOL SAFETY PATROLS in Danville, Ill., have put their city in the "safest class." There has not been a single child injury in 25 years at school crossings manned by these youthful patrols.

In recognition of this outstanding achievement, Danville was recently cited by the National Safety Council for its school traffic safety education.

"These wonderful youngsters," says Robert Christy, chief of police for the past 20 years, "provide us with the extra help we need at vital hours. A town like ours of 40,000 citizens cannot provide enough regular police officers to cover each and every corner at a given moment. The patrol boys and girls not only save lives and taxpayers' money, but also spread safety education among their fellow students. And they grow up to become thoughtful law-abiding and community-conscious citizens."

Chief Christy explains that the youngsters selected for the patrol must all be honor students. Each of the city's 26 schools provides an average of eight students for a total of 208 patrolers. Approximately 10 percent are girls. He feels that four members equalize the work of one experienced traffic officer, thereby supplementing the force by the equivalent of 52 extra adult officers.

Miss Smith

Much of the success of Danville's child safety record is attributed to the school authorities. Chief Christy points with pride to the complete cooperation from the school superintendent, the principals and the teachers, who coordinate their efforts through Grace Brandenburger, head of the school safety patrol.

At the beginning of each school term police officers visit the patrol boys and girls and teach them safety fundamentals. As the program develops, they talk over any problems which might arise.

Here are some of the important lessons they learn: Always face oncoming traffic; keep other children on the curb until the signal is given to cross safely; return to the curb as soon as other children are assisted across the street; observe license numbers of vehicles which violate laws.

This last point is a very powerful safety factor, Chief Christy explains. The patrol boys and girls always carry chalk with them. Anytime they observe a motorist speeding or going through a stop light, for instance, they write his license number on the sidewalk, curb or street. Such violations are followed up by the police department in conjunction with school authorities. As a result, says Chief Christy, citizens of Danville think twice before violating a traffic law.

MOKENA UNIT

An exceptionally entertaining program by ensembles from the Oak Lawn high school band was a highlight of the Mokena P-TA meeting held last week in the grade school gymnasium.

The program, which was introduced by Mrs. Wendell Hamilton, followed the regular business session of Feb. 26, at which the unit president, Mrs. George H. Bills, presided.

The Oak Lawn high school band is directed by Richard Pettibone. The program opened with selections by an all-girl French horn quartet. Then came a cornet duet, a piano solo and the concluding number was presented by a mixed clarinet quartet.

Mrs. Fred Lehman had charge of the final part of the program which was a lively and entertaining skit called "It's a problem". Eighth grade students played the roles of parents 'helping' an algebra student solve a problem. Mrs. Lehman directed the play.

During the business meeting, preceding the program an announcement was made that the March meeting will be the annual award pot-luck dinner. Norval Robinson reported on the dance plans and the candy sale. Mrs. Bills reported $639.01 collected to date on the March of Dimes drive and she also called attention to the campaign for polio shots for all adults between the ages of 30 to 50 years. Mrs. Arthur Shoop reported on the Will County Area council meeting held in Mokena on Feb. 7. The revised by-laws as presented by Mrs. Shoop, Mrs. Wesley Cappel and Mr. Glenn Miers, were voted on and accepted by the attending members.

The room count was won by Mrs. Pester's first grade and refreshments were served by the third grade mothers at the end of the program.

Frankfort Unit

The next PTA meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 12 in the First Grade room of the School Building. Business of the evening will begin promptly at 7:30 and include presentation of the slate by the nominating committee for election of officers for the coming year.

Kenneth Kinney, arts and crafts instructor at Lincoln-Way high school will be the guest speaker. He will be assisted by students from his classes. Refreshments will be served by parents of third grade children with Mrs. Ralph Dralle chairman. District council meeting will be held at 8 p. m. tonight, March 7 in the Haven school, New Lenox. Any interested members wishing transportation may call Mrs. Leroy Hansen or Mrs. Lee Robinson.

Because rumors are being circulated about changes in the skating ages and times, the PTA wishes to announce that: after much consideration the skate committee has recommended that all present skating regulations remain as they are for the remainder of the current school year. Children thru the fifth grade will skate from 6:15 to 7:30 for 25 cents, and upper grades and teenagers will skate at 7:30 to 9:30 for 50 cents. All spectators will be charged 50 cents.

New Lenox Unit

At the February meeting of the New Lenox P-TA it was announced that the organization had received recognition from the Eastern Will County council for membership increase of 50% over last year. Principal John Oster announced that the bus committee must collect $106.00 in order to be in good condition.

Mrs. Rowena Wolfinger announced that the Mothers March on Polio was a success and thanks all who participated. A "Thank You" note from the Joseph Casey family was read. Mrs. Grace Frazer reported on the Eastern Will County council Founders Day banquet held in Mokena. Mrs. Edith Warning gave a resume of the speech given by Mrs. Charles Williams.

The next district council meeting will be March 7 at 7:45 p. m. in the Haven School to which all are invited to attend. The Homemakers will serve as hostesses at this meeting.

Mrs. Clarence Korista told about its P-TA magazines and the many ideas it gives for a way department, was taken to Silver Cross hospital and is improving nicely. He had oxygen administered for a few days, but now is doing nicely without it. It is hoped he may be able to return home within a week's time.

A daughter was born in Silver Cross hospital Saturday, March 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Martin John Medema, Jr. The baby weighed nine pounds one ounce and has been named Julie Louise. She and her mother, the former Doris Cummons, returned home Wednesday. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Medema and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Cummons all of Mokena.

New Lenox Man Pays Fine After Scuffle in Saloon

Harold R. Waller, 30, New Lenox and Robert L. Weber, 27, Channahon, were each fined $50 and costs by Justice of the Peace Anthony Mackay in Joliet Tuesday as a result of a saloon scuffle.

Weber was tending bar at the Lone Star Inn in Channahon Monday night. Waller was a patron.

The pair became involved in an argument, according to information brought out at the hearing, that ended up with a pistol shot. The shot, fired by Weber, went thru the saloon door without damage to any customers. But a billy club, wielded by the barkeep, was more effective. Weber is alleged to have clobbered Waller, inflicting a gash in the latter's head that required five stitches. The club was reported broken.

After receiving treatment at St. Joseph's hospital in Joliet, Waller obtained a warrant charging Weber with disorderly conduct. Waller also was arrested.

Car Sluggish These Days? Give It Exercise!

Your car was built to be driven, says the Chicago Motor Club.

So, if you want good performance from your car, drive it.

Just as any person needs a certain amount of exercise to keep in good physical condition, a car should get more of a workout than the usual day-to-day driving. Many cars are driven mostly to and from work or on short shopping trips, or occasionally to a friend's house for a social evening.

Service experts of the Motor club advise both city and suburban residents to head for the open highway occasionally and exercise their cars. You can do this without exceeding normal highway speeds. It isn't speed the car needs—it's a reasonable workout to keep it in good running condition.

A breezing run at open highway speeds tends to improve the efficiency of the battery, re-4H club work receives the spotlight this week, National 4H club week. In addition to the 4H Rally and local club activities, about 25 4H members will appear on WGN TV on March 9 from 11:30 to 12 noon. They will help Chicagoland observe National 4H Club Week.

Lawns, shrubs, trees, farmstead arrangement. These are a few of the topics that will be presented at our landscaping meeting March 11 at 8 pm. at the Tinley Park Farm Bureau. The volume of mail and phone calls I receive on this subject proves that many people are interested. H. R. Kemmerer, Land scape Specialist, University of Illinois, will speak.

Local 4H leaders in Southern Cook county have attended two meetings during the past week to discuss club programs. Mrs. Katherine Ihlenfeld of Tinley Park, Mrs. E. W. Mueller and Mrs. Philip Uthe of Midlothian attended a district meeting at Kankakee.

The following local leaders were present at the county leaders' meeting: Mrs. Philip Uthe of Midlothian; Elaine Elbers, Warren Schultz, Earle Bettenhausen and Mrs. Eary Siemsen of Tinley Park; Sharon Kohl of Matteson; Edwin Lorenz of Chicago Heights.

These people are the heart of the 4H program. The leader meetings provide opportunities for discussion and learning of better methods.

All 4H members appreciate the time and effort expended by the Volunteer leaders.

Dairy farmers in South Cook County are invited to attend the Will County Dairy Herd Improvement Association meeting March 7 at 8 pm.

It will be held at the St. Johns Evangelical and Reformed church, 9 miles south of Frankfort on Center Road and one mile east.

E. E. Ormiston, Professor of Dairy Production, University of Illinois, is the principal speaker. Such topics as the all corn dairy ration, silage and zero pasture will be discussed.

Farmers with oats to sell should follow the market closely during March and April. Oats are often at their highest price for the season during these months.

Smaller United States oat supplies held winter oat prices about 15 cents a bushel above last year's prices, and high in relation to corn prices. United States oat stocks on January 1, 1957, were 25 percent below a year ago.

Farmers receive about 20 percent of the money spent at retail by consumers for bakery and cereal products. The balance, or 80 percent, goes to those who market, transport, process and retail the finished products. Marketing margins on cereal products have increased about one percent in the past year. Most of this increase has been taken out of the share going to the farmer, as retail costs have changed little.

For greater flexibility and better maneuverability of machinery, almost every farm building can and should have a clear span roof. Your University plan service has over 100 different trusses, including spans up to 40 feet

It is never too late or too early to take soil samples and get an inventory of your soil nutrients either for present or future use.

Mokena Wins Grade Cage Titles

Heavies Sole Champs; Lights, New Lenox Share Loop Honors

Mokena grade school closed the most successful basketball season in anyone's memory Friday with a double victory over Channahon. The Meteorites scored a surprisingly easy win 25 to 16, while the Meteors triumphed 31 to 14. The two victories gave Mokena both the light and heavyweight championships of the DesPlaines Valley conference. The Meteorites must share the title with New Lenox since both teams finished with the same record, 10 win and 2 defeats. This is the second straight championship for the Meteorites who won all 10 conference games last year. Their two year record stands at 20 wins and only two defeats. Both losses were by a single point.

The Meteors won the heavyweight championship with an 11 and 1 record. Frankfort is in second place at the present with an 8 and 3 mark but they have a postponed game to make up with Troy. Troy is the only team to beat the Meteors this year. The loss came at Troy by two points, the only blot on an otherwise perfect record. The Meteors have an overall season record of 15 and 1.

The Meteorites were sharp for their game Friday as they expected the toughest kind of competition since they had beaten Channahon by only three points earlier in the season. Two baskets by Johnson and one by Muehler pushed Mokena in front 6 to 1 at the end of the first quarter. The advantage moved to 16 to 7 at the half as Johnson continued to have his best night of the season and pumped in two more baskets and a free throw while Sayers hit for two. The second half saw a 10-0 run by Mokena set but the Meteorites were able to match their opponents point for point and maintain their advantage. Johnson lead both teams with 13 points.

The Meteors looked sluggish in the first half and it appeared as though their thoughts were on the tournament ahead of them rather than the business at hand. The 10 to 3 first quarter lead was established on Kruzich's two baskets and two free throws and two buckets by Morris. Mokena was outscored 4 to 1 in the second period but they came with a rush in the second half scoring 20 points, 13 in the third quarter. Kruzich was high point man with 12 and Morris followed with 9. The work of Morris of the boards was especially helpful because the team was below strength. Ronnie Yunker is nursing an injured ankle and didn't start the game.

The Meteorites now enter the conference lightweight tourney at Manhattan. Their first game is tonight, March 7, against Manhattan at 8:30.

The Meteors will take the week off before attempting to take first place in the Heavyweight Conference tourney at New Lenox starting Wednesday March 13 at 8:00. The Meteors also will meet Manhattan to start the tourney.

Sandburg Dads Club Five Ready For Big Game

Concessionnaires at the Carl Sandburg high school gym tomorrow night should be able to make some extra money by laying in a supply of linament and ointments designed to relieve stiffness, soreness and quiet the pain of shrieking joints and muscles.

Members of the Fathers' club of Sandburg high who still claim to some prowess on the basketball court will essay an appearance against a team made up of men from the faculty, including coaches.

This should be like shooting fish in a barrel for the faculty squad and the fathers probably will feel exactly like that but they are a game lot and will do their best for those who buy tickets to see them perform.

Except for running for an occasional train the fathers are a little out of practice and will carry no more weight than they have to in the game. To that end they have even shed first names and middle initials and submit a list of the squad as follows: E. Zinn, M. Hill, L. McBride, L. Baggion, D. Franks, G. Bates, M. Albers, C. Behn, L. Meredith, M. Kiltman, D. Cummins, T. Moore, D. Fruman, J. Kilroy and V. Martin. Sam Williford is the coach, Ed Hosier the manager and Don Beck will handle the water bucket.

Prior to the spectacular as they say in TV, pupils from Palos Park, Orland Park and St. Michael's grade school will play at 7 o'clock.

The names of the boys apparently were shaken up in a bag and came out without regard to schools in this fashion: Paul Busch, Dom Petrossi, Randy Cernick, Jack Kilroy, Lance Roberts, Boh McKim, Jim Hefries, G. Vytalil, John Neal, Bill Gorney, Bob Kaiser, Bob Dellapenna, Charles Halverson, George Flondor, Roger Brown, Bill Beretich, Albert Swayne, George Welbourn, Bill Schultz, Steve Matalone, Ray Heniff and Dennis Lindquist.

A Touch of Larceny

Danny Williams, No. 66, a member of the Mokena grade school lightweight team is saying "Oh Shucks," at this juncture because a teammate, Mike Sheridan, was just coming up with the ball when an unidentified Channahon boy slipped in and stole it. But there was contact and the Channahon lad drew a foul. The picture was taken at the game played in Mokena last Friday night that was won by the home team and brought them into a tie with New Lenox for the title in the pony division of the DesPlaines Valley conference. U.S. Treasury Asks Congress For Leeway in Bond Interest

The treasury announces it has requested the Congress to enact legislation which will permit an increase in the interest rate on new sales of United States Savings bonds.

The treasury's request to the Congress called attention to the important role that the savings bonds program has played in the national life over the last 22 years, serving to encourage thrift and to place the government's finances on a sound basis. Today about 40 million persons own more than $41 billion of Series E and H savings bonds.

Identical proposed bills were transmitted to the senate and the house of representatives today which would give the treasury the same flexibility with regard to interest rates on Savings Bonds that it has on other types of treasury bonds. Passage of the legislation will permit the treasury to go forward with plans to offer improved interest rate terms on all Series E and H bonds sold on or after Feb. 1, 1957.

If the proposed legislation is passed, the Treasury plans to increase to 3 1/4% the interest rate on new E bonds held to maturity, in place of the 3%. The issue price and face value of the new E bond will be unchanged but the present nine years and eight months maturity will be shortened to eight years and 11 months. Terms of any extension privilege for the new bonds will be determined later.

Also, redemption values of the new bond for the early years will be increased to provide a substantially higher yield to owners who find it necessary to redeem their bonds before maturity. The return on the new bond, if held 3 years, would be 3 per cent, compared with 2 1/4% at present.

However, present owners of bonds will generally find it advantageous to continue holding them. For example, a $100 E bond has a redemption value of $79.20 when held two and a half years. That bond will earn $20.80 more to reach its full $100 value at first maturity, and this $20.80 is slightly more than 3 1/4% on $79.20 for the remaining period of 7 years 2 months, compounded semi-annually.

People holding bonds which have reached maturity and are being retained under the ten-year extension privilege will also find it to their advantage to continue holding them. Such bonds reaching the extension period since May 1942 are already paying a full 3% interest compounded semi-annually and are redeemable on demand, and bonds of an earlier period show a still greater return.

The Treasury also plans to offer, effective Feb. 1, 1957, a revised 10-year Series H bond with yields generally comparable to the new E bond and returning 3 1/4% if held to maturity. The new H bond, like the present bond, would pay interest by check each six months in contrast to the appreciation-type E bond.

April 15 Deadline For Pastors to Get Social Security

Ministers who have not exercised their option to come under social security have only a short while longer to file their Certificate of Election (Form 2031.) This statement was issued today by Harold Whiteside, Social Security District Manager at Joliet.

The Social Security law provides optional coverage for ministers performing services in the exercise of their ministry, Christian Science Practitioners, or members of religious orders performing services required by the order, (unless they have taken a vow of poverty.) This is an individual election and does not involve the church they serve. Those already in such professions during 1955 have only until April 15, 1957, to elect social security coverage. Their failure to act prior to such time means that they may not come under the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Program at any future time.

White said that if they wish to exercise their option they should complete form 2031 and file it with the District Director of Internal Revenue before or with their income tax returns for 1956, due not later than April 15, 1957. They should also get a social security number unless they already have one.

Those who will enter the profession in the future and who want Social Security coverage must file the Certificate of Election on or before the due date of their tax returns for the second taxable year in which they net $400.

For further information and literature contact the Social Security District Office, Baskin Building, Joliet.

Fight Sunday Closing Law in South Holland

(CNS)—Two South Holland residents have replaced two others as plaintiffs in a Circuit court suit challenging the constitutionality of the village's Sunday closing law.

The new plaintiffs are John Cent, and Emil C. Stufflebeam. They replaced John F. McHugh, and Fred W. Peterman, Jr., who were among five persons named as plaintiffs in the suit filed by Attorney Edward T. Havey.

McHugh and Peterman dropped out, contending their views on the Blue Law were misrepresented.

Judge Harry M. Fisher last week signed an order, approving the switch. The order also dropped South Holland's former police chief, Theodore Huizinga, as party defendant and added A. Douglas Gouwens, present police chief.

Judge Fisher also gave the village until March 9 to file an answer.

The other plaintiffs are three businessmen: Aloysius Cisek, owner of Star-lite motel; Chester Bittner, owner of House of Pizza, and John Nieckula, operator of One-Six Shell service station.

Their attorney contends the South Holland "blue law" is unconstitutional on several points, including the charge that it imposes the religious beliefs of the majority on individuals of other faiths. This is in violation of the first amendment of the U. S. Constitution, Havey says.

Residents of South Holland are predominantly members of the Reformed and Christian Reformed church in America, which originated in Holland. One of their beliefs is that no work be performed on Sunday.

However, Havey contends, most blue laws exempt the banning of certain activities, whereas South Holland's does not. These activities include the sale of milk, gas, and newspapers among other things, Havey says.

The state has no power to pass such an inclusive law, Havey says. And since villages receive their authority from the state, he reasons that a village "obviously does not have more power than the state."

South Holland adopted the Blue Law June 26.

Cong. Mason Charges High Court With Flouting States Rights

(Editor's note: Congressman Noah Mason, 15th Illinois district, recently made a speech in the house of representatives which should be read by everyone interested in preserving his rights under the federal constitution. As a matter of fact it would appear that the constitution itself is in danger of destruction by those who would substitute their selfish aims for the principles laid down by the founding fathers.

(Congressman Mason points to a growing trend toward usurpation of congressional powers by the judicial and executive branches and the flouting of states rights by a court made up of members described as "socially and politically minded instead of being legally experienced and judicially inclined." Because of the length of Mr. Mason's speech it will run in two sections. The second portion will appear next week. We suggest that you clip out both portions of the speech and read them over several times.)

Mr. Mason. Mr. Speaker, from the adoption of our Constitution in 1789 until the New Deal era, appointments to the United States supreme court were made on the basis of the legal and judicial experience possessed by the person appointed. This insured court decisions based upon legal precedents, previous court decision, and constitutional grounds.

That is as it should be. That is what the architects of our constitution intended.

President Franklin Delano Roosevelt evidently was not too greatly impressed by the duties and responsibilities of the supreme court as envisioned by the makers of our constitution. He first tried to "pack" the court to obtain the decisions he wanted to implement his social and economic objectives. Failing in that attempt, he proceeded to "stack" the court by appointing to every vacancy that occurred persons with social, political and economic beliefs similar to his own—liberal ideologists who had little or no experience in legal or constitutional problems.

President Roosevelt's example was followed by President Truman, so that today a majority of the members of the court are socially and politically minded judicially inclined. We therefore have court decisions today based upon the social, economic, and political convictions of the Justices rather than upon legal precedents or constitutional grounds.

Mr. Speaker, Felix Frankfurter is an example of this new type of supreme court justice. He has little respect or regard for the validity of laws enacted by congress or by state legislatures. He is inclined to favor a strong and dominant federal government and to ignore or give scant attention to the rights of individuals and of the state—rights provided for and reserved to them by the constitution.

Because the majority of our supreme court justices today are of the Frankfurter school of thought, we have such decisions as the following:

First. The Steve Nelson decision:

In this decision the supreme court ruled that a Communist convicted and sentenced under the sedition law of Pennsylvania was—so the court held—illegally convicted because the Smith Sedition Act passed by congress preempted the field of sedition and deprived the states of all jurisdiction in that field.

Yet the Smith Sedition Act plainly and specifically stated the clear intent of congress when it said:

"Nothing in this title shall be held to take away or impair the jurisdiction of the courts of the various States under the laws thereof.

Second. The Dr. Harry Slochower decision:

In this decision the supreme court ruled that Dr. Slochower had been fired illegally by the Brooklyn City college board because "the due process of law" had not been followed in his case.

The New York city charter contains a provision for the automatic discharge of any city employee who under questioning by an official investigation committee invokes the fifth amendment in order to avoid testifying. All authority for hiring and firing city employees in New York city comes from the city charter. Dr. Slochower invoked the fifth amendment; so—as provided in the city charter—he was automatically fired by the board. Neither "life, liberty, nor property" were involed in Dr. Slochower's dismissal. Third. Segregation outlawed on local buses:

The decision outlawing segregation on local buses is another example of the supreme court's interference with the police powers of the various States. We all recognize the fact that the constitution places the power to regulate and control interstate commerce in the federal government. That power gives the federal government jurisdiction and control over travel by persons crossing State boundaries. However, travel by persons wholly within the state boundaries, or wholly within city boundaries, by no stretch of the imagination, can be considered under federal jurisdiction. Jurisdiction over travel within the states, under the federal constitution, is left entirely within the control of the police powers of the individual States.

The decision outlawing segregation on local buses, therefore, is a flagrant example of infringement upon states rights—a deliberate interference with the police powers of the states.

Fourth. Segregation in the public schools:

In this decision the court ignored a 60-year-old ruling, previously made by the same court, that gave approval to separate but equal educational facilities and services for white and colored pupils in the public schools.

This recent decision was issued in the form of a thesis—a thesis supported almost entirely by citations from college professors, sociologists, and psychologists; but not supported by citations from eminent lawyers nor by previous court decisions. In fact, in this case the court not only completely ignored previous court decision, but it also ignored recent congressional legislation having a direct bearing upon this problem.

In the legislation for the school-lunch program congress specifically acknowledged and accepted the theory of separate but equal schools for colored children. In that legislation congress stated that in dispensing aid thru the school-lunch program in States that maintained separate but equal schools for white and colored pupils the school-lunch aid should be distributed equitably as between the separate schools.

In substance, therefore, this act of congress was both an acknowledgment of and acceptance of the separate but equal ruling the Supreme Court issued some 60 years ago—before the court was stacked with New Deal Justices.

Mr. Speaker, under the 10th amendment to the constitution it is the function and the responsibility of the States to provide schools, to regulate them, and to have complete jurisdiction over them. Any local justice of the peace without legal training ought to know that much.

The 14th amendment to the constitution contains the due-process clause that protects the constitutional rights of the individual citizens. This due-process clause has become—under our present supreme court—a basket clause to be cited whenever the court desires to go beyond the written wording of the constitution and substitute so-called natural or moral law.

However, the 14th amendment also contains the following:

"The Congress shall have the power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this articles."

This clause has been ignored or deliberately overlooked by the court in the recent segregation cases. This clause places the sole power to implement the 14th amendment in the people's representatives—the congress; not in the executive, not in the judiciary, but solely in the congress. If congress fails to act—and so far it has failed to act in regard to segregation in the schools and in regard to bus transportation within cities and States—can the executive or the judiciary take the place of the congress in the implementation of this amendments?

Farm Bureau Opposes Current Corn Base Bill

Illinois' State Farm Bureau has taken a strong stand opposing a bill which would fix the nation's corn acreage base at 43.2 million acres.

Otto Steffey, president of the ers best is based on the 51-mil-

Illinois Agricultural Association, said that the bill, reported out of the house of representatives agricultural committee, would not reduce the acreage of corn or of any other basic crops—including wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco, and peanuts. The law states that land which can be placed in the acreage reserve is in addition to allotments in the basic crops.

"Workable legislation must reduce acreage if the legislation is to be successful in reducing surpluses," Steffey said.

The corn law which the IAA feels would serve Illinois farm-lion acre corn base. It would require farmers to place cropland acreage equal to 15 per cent of his corn allotment in the soil bank in order to qualify for price supports.

The bill, now reported out of committee, would permit growers of the basic crops to place other acreage normally devoted to feed grains in the soil bank acreage up to 18 per cent of their allotment of the particular basic crop. This program would apply to all the basic crops and not just to corn.

As an alternative, the Illinois farm bureau would support legislation which would permit the farmers to choose and to plant either their allotment under the 37.3 million acre allotment and qualify for the $1.36 per bushel price support or plant their allotment under the 51-million acre soil bank base program and collect somewhat lower price supports.

With allotments already established in both of these programs, such legislation could become effective immediately, Steffey observed.

"Farmers are already buying seed, fertilizer, and other needs. Our experience in 1956 demon-ed to pass controversial legislation. It does not make sense to be discing down corn after it is planted as many farmers did in 1956," Steffey concluded.

Chicken Fricassee With Dumplings

...For a cheery dinner at this stage of winter serve the family chicken fricassee with dumplings. It's an old-fashioned dish but an ever-modern favorite with hungary appetites. Stewing chicken is more meaty and flavorful today than in bygone days and takes much less time to prepare.

Here are directions for making 6 to 8 servings:

Simmer on 4½ to 5 lb. (ready-to-cook weight), cut-up stewing chicken with 3 teaspoons of salt, 1 medium onion, a tip of bay leaf, and 4 cups of water until fork tender—about 2½ hours.

Remove chicken from broth. Strain broth. Spoon fat from surface of broth and save for other cooking needs. Measure broth and if necessary add enough water to make 3 cups. Heat to a simmer.

To prepare gravy, blend 1/3 cup of the chicken fat, ½ cup of flour and 1 cup of milk until free of lumps. Pour slowly into simmering broth, stirring constantly until thickened thruout. Cover and simmer about 5 minutes.

Place chicken in gravy and heat thoroughly. Season to taste.

Make the dumplings from your own favorite recipe or one found in any good cook book, or simply use biscuit mix, following package directions. Garnish the dumplings with parsley.

Rejects Bids on Repairs to Hospitals--too High, No Funds

(CNS)—Not enough money in the bond fund kitty was one big reason the Cook county board has rejected bids for costly repair work at county hospital and the Oak Forest institutions.

The board Monday rejected bids totaling $1,711,683 for bids totaling $1,444,308 for similar work at County Hospital.

County board president Dan Ryan explained this was necessary not only because the bids were higher than estimates but also because insufficient money remains in institution bond funds to cover such costs.

Work in recent years has drained all but $566,524 out of $7.7 million in 1947 and 1951 bond issue proceeds for Oak Forest improvements. The $13.6 million hospital improvement bond proceeds, voted the same years, have now been reduced to $712,260.

Funds for these improvements may have to wait until another bond issue is submitted to voters in the June judicial election, Ryan said.

Altho the county's bond fund pocketbook isn't buldging, its credit seems to be good.

The board last week sold $18.5 million worth of 1957 tax anticipation warrants to a syndicate of six large Chicago banks.

The money was loaned at an interest rate of only 3 and ¾ percent and will be paid back in 1958 with collections from 1957 real estate and personal property taxes.

Ryan pointed out that tax warrants sold recently by the Chicago Board of Education bear a slightly higher interest rate of 3½ per cent.

"That the banks are willing to charge the county a lower rate than they do other taxing bodies reflects favorably on Cook county's good credit," Ryan said.

The county may have won a bargain, but it still is a victim of the tight money market the economy is in. A year ago, the county paid 2.75 per cent interest on its tax warrants. Ryan recalled that a number of years ago the interest charge was only 1.2 percent.

In other action, the board adopted a resolution by Commissioner Charles F. Chaplin to take the sting out of performance bond requirements.

Chaplin pointed out that if a contractor completes $90,000 worth of work on a $100,000 job and then goes bankrupt, he forfeits the $100,000 bond he took out to assure the county he would make good on his contract.

The board voted to make only the difference—or $10,000 in this example—the amount that would be forfeited.

Lost Hat Puts Trio in Jail as Bandit Suspects

(CNS)—Three men from the Chicago Heights are held under $25,000 bond each were charged by the FBI Thursday with robbery of the Lake City bank, of McBain, Mich., 100 miles north of Grand Rapids, on Aug. 31, in which $2,337 was taken.

Two were arrested early last Thursday on the street in Chicago Heights: Gaylord Harry Kogler, 24 years old, 3443 Florence street, Steger, and Anthony John Notoriano, 47 years old, 1652 Halsted street, Chicago Heights.

The third was found in the county jail where he was placed 10 days earlier on an assault and burglary charge. He is Kermit F. Ketcherside, 33, of 19 Illinois street.

According to Donald S. Hofstetter, agent in charge of the Chicago FBI office, a light tan felt hat traced to a Chicago Heights store led to their identification. The hat was found 75 feet from where the men abandoned a stolen car, four miles outside McBain, to enter Notoriano's car in which he had awaited the return of the other two from robbing the bank.

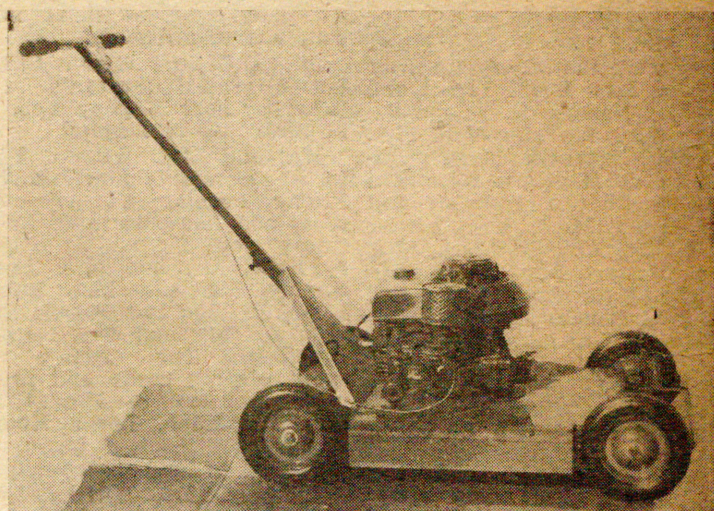

Kogler held employees at bay with a gun, while Ketcherside jumped over the counter and scooped the money out of a cash drawer, Hofstetter said.

FBI agents worked laboriously for several weeks after tracing the hat to an unidentified Chicago Heights store before seizing the two remaining suspects simultaneously.

Guess who needs an automatic Dryer—and why should it be Electric?

The Electric dryer is fully automatic, fume-free, fast and thrifty!

Poor father! If they had an electric dryer he'd have a dozen clean, dry diapers by now. Baby-soft, clean-smelling—the way they always dry in an electric.

Nearest thing there is to sunshine. Electric heat is clean, dry, radiant heat. Fume-free. So everything you dry electrically comes out smelling sweet as clover.

Electric dryers are all fully automatic, and just 6¢ worth of electricity will dry a big load.

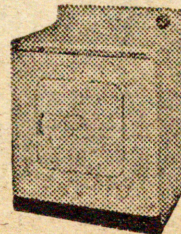

Take a look at the new electric dryers soon. You'll notice that all the "no-vent" dryers are electric. (So your laundry area stays clean, dry and comfortable.) Are you listening, father?

Big Saving—ask your dealer about our Share-the-Cost Installation Plan. It's the low-cost way to get the modern 100-amp home wiring you need for today's electric living appliances.

If you own an electric range, you save up to $25 on a new dryer! In fact if you have any 240-volt appliance your home probably has modern wiring already. This means the complete, installed price of your new electric dryer will be less than any other kind.

of Oak Park avenue about 1,000 ft. south of 151st street.

It was rezoned by the board from farming to business Nov. 24, 1953 on an application by Aldo J. Lucchesi, 9320 S. Hal-sted street, Chicago.

At the time he told the board he planned to erect a 16 unit motel and restaurant on the site.

Now, more than three years later, these plans have been dropped.

Mackler pointed out that such a situation couldn't occur under proposed amendments to the county zoning ordinance cover-ing land in unincorporated areas.

The amendments would re-strict an applicant to what he said he wanted to construct, if his rezoning petition were ap-proved.

Maurice P. Angland

It is always of interest to know the investment attitudes of the managers of large institutional accounts. Many institutional investment portfolios are published periodically and are closely studied by investment analysts. A change which has been noted, was a change in buying direction away from the well known blue chips toward lesser known securities of better immediate value. This is no doubt due to the higher price-earnings ratios of the well known blue chips.

In mid-January, Trusts and Estates, a highly regarded monthly publication designed for professional investment management, published an article reporting the consensus of 50 trust investment officers. The article is far too long for complete publication here. As to corporate dividends and earnings the reports indicate that there will be a narrowing of profit margins with the number expecting smaller earnings trends only slightly more numerous than those expecting earnings to hold rather steady. The majority opinion of the group is that dividend payouts will not change much.

As to industry groups the investment officers held pretty much to their normal pattern except on steel stocks which held second place as favored vehicles of investments. Oils, as usual, received the greatest number of votes and gas and electric utilities occupied third position. The electrical and electronics came next and the least popular were the reetaail stores, dairy products, building materials, packaging, air transport, coal and papeer.

In concluding their article, Trusts and Estates reported on the investment officer's specific stock nominations in the long term growth category. No all-inclusive list was presented, but comment was made that the list included the usual top blue chip stocks, but in addition the investment officers selected a number of less often mentioned stocks as candidates for the growth group. Some of these are shown in the following list compiled by Trusts and Estates —Air Reduction, American Potash, Armco Steel, Carborundum, Columbia Broadcasting, Cutler Hammer, Diamond Alkali, El Paso Natural Gas, Gerber Products, Hudson's Bay Company, Inland Creek Coal, Kaiser Aluminum, Libby-Owens Ford, Eli Lilly & Co., Lone Star Cement, Glenn Martin, National Cash Register, Outboard Marine, Panhandle Eastern, Pennsylvania Salt, Polaroid, Royal Dutch Petroleum, Shamrock Oil, Southern Natural Gas, Sperry Rand, Square D, Standard Oil of Indiana, Superior Oil, Thompson Products, Trane Co., Union Bag and Paper, and Vanadium.

Most of the firms named are well known to most investors altho Hudson's Bay Company, The Polaroid Corporation, and Trane Co. may be less well known. Hudson's Bay Company is the oldest business organization on the North American Continent. It operates a widely diversified business in Canada which includes six department stores, but includes large Canadian oil and gas interests and vast Canadian land holdings. The company would capitalize handsomely on Canadian economy growth. The Polaroid Corporation is best known for its Land picture-a-minute camera, but is very active in the field of optical and light polarizing materials which is receiving increasing scientific attention. Trane Co is an important factor in the manufacture of heating and air conditioning equipment for non-residential and industrial use. Sales for 1956 were about three and a half times those of ten years previously.

By 1965, farm output per man-hour is expected to rise 40 per cent. The key to this efficiency is mechanization which depends on petroleum products.

When the new moon, earth-satellite rocket starts its 3-stage voyage into space, at least the first stage of its travels is going to be petroleum-powered. (Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by local clergy designed to produce greater church attendance between now and Easter.

Resolved: That I will go to church every Sunday, and thus become a source of inspiration to other worshippers.

Resolved: That I will go to church early so I will have time to "settle down", silently bow in prayer to ask divine blessing upon the service and all who gather for the worship of Almighty God.

Resolved: That I will maintain a reverent silence while in the House of God, preserve an eager and open mind, laying aside prejudices so God may speak to me thru the ministries of the church.

Resolved: That I will regularly support the church of my choice and give willingly, out of the deep conviction that the church is an indispensable asset in my own life, an uplifting force in the community, and a saving force in the world.

"God is the Answer" to my best efforts. I shall go to church regularly.

Thought for the Day

We are always thankful as we pray for you all, for we never forget that your faith has meant solid achievement, your love has meant hard work. (1 Thessalonians 1:1,2. Philippians.)

Once while a great orchestra was playing, the flutist did not play the few simple notes that were written for him. The conductor stopped the orchestra and said, "The flute where is it?" Perhaps no one but the conductor heard the flute and its few notes, but the conductor pressed, "Joy! Joy! Joy!" something to get to God. It may not seem much matter whether or not we do our duty, but it matters to God!

It matters, because when we refuse to play our part we build a tragic wall between ourselves and our Father. We become isolated from Him and His people. Only by doing God's will can we achieve. Only under His leadership can we be fruitful.

Just as it takes each member of an orchestra to make beautiful music, so we must work together under God's will if His Kingdom is to come in us and in our world.

PRAYER

Our Father, we want so much to do Thy will today. As we go about our daily tasks, help us to do them with a sense of Thy presence. Thy love, Thy power. Through Christ our Lord we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
It is day I will be about my Father's business.

Steamboats 'Round the Bend-- Natchez and the Robert E. Lee

By JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

The fact that "there's a law ag'in it" doesn't keep all persons from engaging in a prescribed activity; in fact, it never has. For instance, if the legal bans against steamboat racing had been fully effective, the best known of all such races would not have been run.

This contest that occurred 86 years ago grew out of the rivalry of two widely known and competent river men of that day. There were Captain John Cannon, owner of the steamer Robert E. Lee, and Captain Thomas Leathers, who owned the steamer Natchez. These men were much alike in that each was an able river captain; beyond that they were very different.

Captain Cannon was a man of medium heights and build. He dressed well and tastefully but never gaudily. He was calm, courteous, gentle and almost courtly in behavior. Some even termed him retiring in disposition. When the chips were down, however, Cannon was a decisive, forceful, energetic, ingenious and daring man. He was a Southerner reconciled to reconstruction.

Captain Leathers was a large man, well over six feet tall and of powerful build. His striking dress included ruffled shirts and diamond stick pins. We are told that his voice oomed. He moved with force and with a certain degree of majesty. No one accused him of being a retiring type or person. Until the end of his days some termed him an "Unreconstructed Rebel".

Apparently the event that really was the beginning of the later intense rivalry between the two men came in the summer of 1866, when Captain Cannon had a large and luxurious steamer built at the New Harmony, Ind. shipyard a short way downstream from Louisville. He named this steamer the Robert E. Lee.

The Robert E. Lee was a large boat with a hull 235 feet six inches long, 46 feet wide and with a draft of nine feet. It carried eight boilers, and since it was a sidewheeler it had two engines. The cylinders of these engines were 42 inches in diameter and each had a stroke of 10 feet. The paddle wheels were 39 feet in diameter and had 17 buckets 17 feet wide. The overall width of the boat was 95 feet.

This great steamer began to attract wide attention and to arouse controversy even before its completion. When Captain Cannon selected the name, "Robert E. Lee", and had it painted on the wheelbox of the new crafts, old prejudices were revived and threats of sabotage were made. To safeguard against this happening, the unfinished vessel was taken across to the Kentucky side for completion.

On Oct. 7, 1866 the Lee, with a large list of passengers anxious to travel on the new and luxurious craft, started on its first downstream trip to New Orleans, there to begin its regular run between that city and Memphis.

Almost immediately after the Lee began its run on the lower river, Captain Leathers arrived, leased a rival steamer and entered into competition with the Lee. The Captains were soon bitter rivals, becoming even more so when Leathers went to Cincinnati and had the steamer Natchez built in 1869.

The Natchez was no puny craft. It was 303 feet long, with a hull the same width as the Lee, 46 feet, and with a draft of nine and a half feet. It also carried eight boilers and two engines. The bore of these engines was 34 inches and their stroke 10 feet. Its paddle wheels were 43 feet in diameter with buckets 11 feet wide. Its overall width was 83 feet, a truly magnificent craft.

Long established speed records on the Mississippi soon began to fall before these boats. Among those records was the one of three days 23 hours and 19 minutes set between New Orleans and St. Louis by the steamer J. M. White in 1844. Urged on by personal pride and perhaps nettled by the taunts and dares of others, a race was soon arranged between the two steamers.

This race began shortly after 5 o'clock on the afternoon of June 30, 1870. The Lee was first away, leaving several minutes before the Natchez. They did not at any time race side by side, despite the beautiful prints of Currier and Ives that show them in such a position. The fact is that the Natchez was never near enough to catch a glimpse of the Lee after the beginning. They were not, however very widely separated until after they had passed the mouth of the Ohio, where the Natchez was trailing by only an hour and ten minutes. It still could have been anyone's race.

Beyond this point misfortunes came to the Natchez. A heavy fog forced Captain Leathers to lay by for several hours. Engine troubles caused additional delay. In the meantime the Lee, ahead of the fog, raced on and reached the St. Louis wharf at 11:25 o'clock in the forenoon of July 4, having completed the run in 3 days, 18 hours and 14 minutes, an enduring record for a commercial craft. Seven hours later the Natchez limped into port.

The race was over but the poems, stories, songs, legends and controversies it aroused go merrily on. After the race the two craft returned to their regular runs and continued their rivalry even to how many bales of cotton could a steamer haul? (Robert E. Lee, 5741; Natchez, 5511.)

At intervals each of these boats came to the Southern Illinois shipyards at Mound City for service and repairs. The last visit of the Lee was in the summer of 1876, when an entry in the little ledger kept at the yard records the fact that the "Robert E. Lee" was docked. Another entry, about three weeks later indicates that the "Wharfboat Robert E. Lee" was launched. In that way the hull of the grand old steamer ended its days at Memphis. The chandeliers from its cabin still hang in the Presbyterian church at Port Gibson, Mississippi. The fine pair of deer antlers, the only prize of the race, are in the Kentucky state museum at Frankfort. Other articles that graced the craft are at "Cannon Acres" not far away.

The Natchez continued in service until 1879 when it was taken up the Ohio river to be dismantled. On its way it became fast on Rising Sun Bar, but a spurt rise in the river enabled it to free itself. On the afternoon of July 3, 1879, the eve of the ninth anniversary of the ending of the historic race, the Natchez tied up at the foot of Ludlow street in Cincinnati. Machinery, superstructure and fittings were removed. The hull, like that of the Lee, became another wharfboat for an oil company below Vicksburg.

Legends continue to grow about these two famous steamers. Perhaps this should be so, for they undoubtedly represent the high point of steamboating on the Western Waters.

Faith, Unity Best Defense, Says General

By Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther
President, American Red Cross
(Paulist Feature Service)

The thing that impressed me most during my six years in Paris with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) was that the struggle between International Communism and the Free World is basically a spiritual struggle.

Our religion is firm in its teachings that every man is important in the eyes of God. This great truth has given us our belief in the dignity of the individual human being; it has given us the inspiration for our ideals, our concepts of freedom; indeed, even our concern for man's material welfare springs from that teaching.

The gulf between this concept and the pseudo-religion of Communism is as wide as it is possible to imagine. Communism denies the existence of a sovereign soul, and substitutes the false doctrine of the sovereign state, which becomes an idol in whose glorification man's development is utterly subjugated. Communism claims to offer a greater human welfare, but up till now has produced instead only human misery and suffering, including crimes of the greatest magnitude against humanity.

It is my firm conviction that Communism—just as other tyrannical regimes, before it—is doomed to fail because of its moral and spiritual inadequacy. However unless we insure that our own civilization survives until that day arrives, the interim could bring the greatest relapse ever seen in man's progress.

In the ensuing struggle, the role of the United States will be a vital one. The mantle of Free World leadership has fallen upon the shoulders of the American people.

Since I have been back in the United States, everywhere I have gone I have been heartened by the increasing interest and understanding of the American people in world affairs. If they, and the other free people of the world, will only continue this interest, and above all, develop their unity, then I am confident that we shall be able to prevent another world war and more than hold our own in the cold war now in progress.

It might be said that I am an optimist. I plead guilty to that charge. But I feel that I am more than an optimist. I feel that I have faith in our way of life, with its matchless concept of religion and all that this implies. I am convinced that it contains the vitality and the quantities, I feel that no power—however menacing—will be able potential to survive. With these to prevail against us.

Laguna Woods

Two Laguna Woods "Lady Sleuths" give chase to a hit and run driver. Last Thursday evening Mrs. Hygie and Mrs. Lawrence Woodbury were returning home from a shopping trip at Evergreen Plaza when they witnessed an accident on Western Avenue. A black car had run into the rear of a parked car, the driver backed up as though to free himself of the entanglement of locked bumpers in so doing he removed the rear bumper of the victims car as well as

Across The Counter . . .

The collision between the ocean liner, Andrea Doria, and the Stockholm last July produced more than death and destruction. It generated many large lawsuits.

You might expect that the owners of both vessels would at least agree on the facts. But, as the International News Service reported, "About the only agreement between the two lines was that a collision occurred."

For instance, the Stockholm claim that it was a clear moonlight night, and that the Andrea Doria traveled at an excessive speed, and suddenly veered across the bow of the Stockholm. The Doria launched a counter suit denying all these charges and holding the Stockholm responsible for the crash on a moonless, foggy night.

Besides the loss of the Doria valued at $25,000,000 and insured for $16,000,000 and the $100,000 damage to the Stockholm's bow, about $25,000,000 in damage have been filed against both lines. Undoubtedly the courts will be busy for a long time with the "legal aftermath" of the collision.

Whether you own a home, store building, farm, car, or ocean liner, you need liability insurance in an ample amount. Accidents do happen—and so do lawsuits. Liability insurance will defend you in such actions whether the suit is justified or not.

Let us discuss the proper "liability protection" with you!

the front bumper on his own car.

Instead of stopping as they expected he swerved around the parked car and careened away with Mrs. Hygie giving chase in her car. After chasing him for several blocks they pulled up behind the car at a red light and Mrs. Woodbury copied his license number. Knowing he was being followed, the hit and run driver turned the corner as tho to head back toward the accident and our friends followed. As he slowed down they pulled up in front of a house and parked. The other car picked up speed and headed in the opposite direction from the accident. The ladies returned to the scene and as Mrs. Woodbury approached and handed the license number to the occupant of the other car she discovered he was the vice president of the loop bank where she used to work.

Our neighbors who have recently returned from southern vacations are: Mrs. Gordon Bendix who visited with her mother in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Verhagen who spent two weeks at Maderia Beach, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leeland who returned Saturday from a trip to Taxco, Mexico.

March 2, the charity ball for the Chicago Oestopathic hospital was held in the Congress hotel. Mrs. Carl Olson was chairman of the huge affair. Other couples who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Al Karre, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brown.

Construction is expected to begin shortly on lot 7 belonging to Mr. W. J. Gavin of Chicago and on lot 48, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Diekmans' lot. The Diekmans have a son and daughter age eight and nine.

How and Where One Preserves Family Records

Running a family these days seems to involve an awful lot of record-keeping. And no one knows this better than the housewife, because this chore is falling more and more on her shoulders. But if she's herself by developing a simple but efficient system of storing smart, she'll make it easy for and filing family papers.

Naturally, it's safest and easiest to keep ALL your important papers in a safe-deposit vault in your bank. But since the space in these boxes is limited, it's advisable to use your bank vault only for those important records that are difficult or impossible to replace, or have a cash value. For example, your marriage license, birth certificates, the titles to your home and car, insurance policies, and the military records of your husband or son.

There are other documents, however, that you may want to keep more handy. Health certificates and cemetery deeds are sometimes needed in a hurry, and bankbooks, installment contracts, guarantees and instruction booklets for home appliances also should be kept at hand for ready reference. A good place for these papers is a simple strong box right in your home that you can buy at any office supply store.

In addition, of course, there are such papers as sales slips, receipts, cancelled checks and others that you don't expect to keep very long. Simply file these neatly in a desk drawer, preferably in manila folders.

Finally, it's essential to start a record book listing all your important documents, so you'll know just where you have them stored. It takes just a few minutes once you've decided grateful you'll be when an emergency pops up!

Another Business District for Palos If Board Says Yes

(CNS)—Palos township stands to gain another business district, if a rezoning petition is approved.

An undisclosed developer wants an eleven acre site located on the west side of Lathrop avenue about 115 feet south of the centerline of 161st street. The land is held by Chicago Title & Trust company, as trustee.

Its petition to rezone the land from farming to business was referred to the county zoning board of appeals last week by the county board. A public hearing date will be set.

The same will be done for a petition to rezone another farming site for business use in Palos township. The property consists of ½ acre located on the east side of Southwest highway about 748 feet north of 111th st.

Frank A. Pavloski, 5211 S. Richmond street, Chicago, submitted the application thru his attorney, Peter G. Schultz, 2745 West 95th street, Evergreen Park.

Regional Tourneys on In Full Swing Again

LINCOLN-WAY LOSES
The Lincoln-Way Knights suffered defeat at the hands of Bloom high of Chicago Heights when the two teams clashed in the regional basketball tournament at Joliet Tuesday night.

The final score was Bloom 77, Lincoln-Way 39. After their upset victory over Rich at the end of the regular Southwest Suburban conference season, Lincoln-Way supporters had hopes that the team might continue its upset course and tap Bloom. Bloom, incidentally, went into the Joliet tourney ranked as the fifth best prep team in the state.

Bloom had charge all the way and controlled the backboards. They started out 14 to 5 for the first quarter and at half time Bloom was leading 36 to 18, and on top 54 to 27 at the close of the third period.

High scorers for Lincoln-Way were Wade and Wheeler with nine points each. Thurman's 29 was high for Bloom, and a very fine high it is.

In the second game at Joliet Tuesday night Joliet Catholic high was victor over Crete-Monee 44 to 42. The score was tied at 42 all when McCarthy of Catholic high loosed the ball at the bucket from 50 feet out. The final gun sounded while the ball was in the air, and it swished thru the netting for the winning points.

Rich played Lockport at Joliet last night.

SANDBURG WINS
Carl Sandburg high school basketball team advanced to the semi-final round of the state regional tournament at Thornton Tuesday night by beating Evergreen Park, 84 to 68.

Bremen high met Thornton Fractional in last night's games, the other contestants being Oak Lawn against Blue Island. Mechanical limitations prevent the carrying of last night's results in this issue.

As a result of its win Tuesday, Sandburg will play Thornton tomorrow night. Thornton defeated Morgan Park Military academy in its first round appearance, 122 to 40.

Cheers for Cheer Leaders

The quintet pictured here extracted a maximum of noise from the cheering sections at the Lions basketball set-to at Lincoln-Way high school and did it without turning a single handspring or aerial somersault. Such maneuvers were impossible, the gals explainer, because their beads were in the way. Left to right these decibel destroyers are, Gertrude Muehler, Joyce Cummons, Virginia Sherwood, Eleanor Wrath and Frances Robinson. (Semmler Newspaper Photo)

The Hose Line

Column conducted by the Tinley Park Fire Department.

Q. What does the different number of blasts on the siren signify?

A. Mrs. A. One long blast of approximately 60 seconds signifies to the firemen that it is an emergency call, more than one blast is a fire call.

Q. I notice when you have a call out of town that the two big trucks go, why?

A. Mr. T. More water can be carried on these trucks than on the smaller one that remains in town, they are faster, and they have more power for heavy going in bad driving places.

Q. Why do only a few of your men have complete fire fighting equipment on a fire? Are you short on equipment?

A. Mr. M. Every one of our men are fully equipped for fire fighting. It is a case of their not having their equipment with them when the siren goes off. We have tried in the past to leave all equipment on the trucks, but when we get to a fire, the public has seen fit to use our equipment, so one of the men did not have any, and in some cases the borrower forgot to return equipment to the department. We have a new system worked out, so you will see most of the men in fire fighting equipment.

Q. Does the department have any means of fighting an oil or gasoline fire?

A. Mr. O. Yes, on a small fire we use the small extinguishers. We have them filled with foam, CO2, and dry chemical. For larger fires we have liquid foam, which mixes with water thru a pick up hose and is sprayed from a 1 1/2" hose with about 150 pounds of pressure. Approximately 19 gallons of water and one gallon of foamite makes 1200 gallons of foam.

Q. Driving thru the state of Illinois, I see many cars with blue lights, I thought they were for firemen only, am I right?

A-Mr. P. You are so right, blue lights, according to the state laws have been designated for the use on a volunteer firemans car. The reason you see so many in driving around the state is that there are approximately 37,500 volunteer firemen in the state.

Q. How many and what type of radio service does the department have?

A. Mr. I. Each truck is radio equipped, which means we have four radios at the present time. We have been discussing the practicability of purchasing a couple of walky talkies on the same wave band as the cars. Our radio service is received through the county police. We have 24 hour service at no cost to the people of Tinley Park or to the fire department. It is a dependable service and we receive 100 percent cooperation from the men.

Did you know that in past court cases it has been decided that the person who starts a grass fire is responsible if his neighbor has a loss as a result of the fire.

Do not start any fire when it is windy!

January calls were: five fires and 2 emergencies.

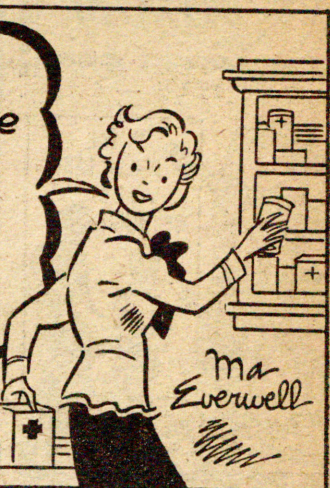

February calls were: six fires and one emergency.

March 1, grass fire, 175th and Ridgeland.

Here's Chance To Brush Up on Tree Planting

The new home owner planting trees can have his own soil bank if he puts enough money as well as effort into the ground work.

Such ground work, in reality is the planting pit, preparation of which should cost more than the tree itself. So says D. B. Magruder, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., who points out the reverse usually is true.

An oversized pit properly drained and generously back-filled with top soil, or even your original subsoil liberally mixed with spagnum peat moss or other humous materials, will do the trick and should get the tree off to an excellent start.

For small trees, a pit some two feet wider than the maximum root spread is advisable. The more ambitious tree lover needn't be restricted by this. There is no limit to the size or depth of the pit that can be employed. Only one precaution: In actually setting the tree, make sure it stands at approximately the same grade that it grew in the nursery. This can be determined by the obvious growth line on the trunk.

With the exception of nitrogen, subsoils usually contain of the elements needed to sustain plant life and, if liberally mixed with humus, will serve nicely as a growing media.

Nitrogen is considered the most necessary element for satisfactory plant growth. It can be supplied easily with application of a good fertilizer. Deep cultivation of surrounding areas virtually will insure the future of new trees despite seemingly poor soil conditions.

Plans Handicapped Children Survey in Cook, Will Counties

A survey to cover all handicapped children in the south suburban area so as to develop programs for their special needs will be launched tomorrow, March 8 at a meeting of the South Suburban Council for Handicapped children. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at Blackhawk school, 130 Blackhawk, Park Forest.

Plans will be discussed for getting the co-operation of ministers, doctors, dentists and public health nurses in telling parents of exceptional children about the Council and its efforts to establish and improve necessary special programs.

Professional persons will be supplied soon with printed information which they can give to parents. Thru such contacts, the Council hopes to get data about the nature and degree of handicaps among area children who are not presently known to schools and health and welfare offices. The survey will cover south Cook county and adjacent Will county territory.

Dr. Robert G. Andree, superintendent of Rich township high school, will tell the Council details of plans for the special education suite which will be set up in the new high school addition, scheduled to open in September, 1958.

Dr. Andree also will lead a discussion on the future programs, facilities and ways to provide equipment for schooling of physically and mentally handicapped teenagers.

The possibility of the Council's setting up scholarships for training of special education teachers also will be discussed. Scholarships might induce qualified teachers, either retired or active, to take summer training that could enable them to teach for special education classes as early as next fall, according to Philip L. Trees of Park Forest, Council president.

PTA News

Southwestern Area

Forty four members from 12 schools in this area attended a meeting of the Southwestern area council, Dist. 19, Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, Feb. 28 in the Harding school in Posen, with the local PTA as hostess under the direction of its president, Mrs. Edward Czekalski.

Special reports included the six week study course conducted by Mrs. Edward Pettijohn, Midlothian, at the Tinley Park school. Another such course began March 5 in the Forest Ridge school. Information was given concerning the scholarships the organization is giving.

President, Mrs. W. F. Fierke reported on the workshop of education at Glenview which she attended. The state committee chairmen conducted roundtables there on six important departments of the PTA.

Announcement was made that Dr. J. E. Clettenberg, State PTA chairman of school education will speak at the meeting March 19 in the Southwest school, 99th and Central Park ave. He will talk on school board elections, member qualifications, teacher shortages etc. There will be a Legislation conference March 21 at the school, 95th and Sawyer, Evergreen Park.

Walter Nelson, State PTA legislation chairman, will tell about important legislative issues that will come before the state convention, April 25-27 in Chicago.

The annual district banquet will be held April 4 in Surma's restaurant. Mrs. Raymond Hammar, Midlothian, Safety chairman, distributed entry blanks for the Carol Lane Safety award given by an oil company. She also explained several weather safety rules.

Officers elected are: Mrs. W. F. Fierke, president; Mrs. Carl Knopp, vice president; Mrs. Paul Patterson, recording secretary; Mrs. Donald Johnson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. G. DeWitt, treasurer. They will be installed at the May 28 meeting in the Forest Ridge school.

The speaker of the evening was W. F. Fierke, superintendent of Tinley Park schools. His topic, "Health, School, PTA and You," was presented in an interesting and informative way.

Several units gave reports on various plans which have proven successful in their units, thus promoting one of the council's objectives, that of sharing interests.

Mrs. Donald Johnson, historian, gave a resume of Founders Day. The Council's first president, Mrs. Pettijohn was present. It was reported that Mrs. Arthur Weygandt, second president of the Council, is ill.

Through recommendation of the executive board, the general membership ratified an additional sum of $67.50 to be given to the Golden Jubilee Scholarship fund.

8 to Bid on Ingalls Hospital Building Job

Eight contracting firms will submit bids for the expansion and remodeling of Ingalls Memorial hospital in Harvey, it was announced today by Herman C. Hoekstra, president of the hospital.

"This action brings us a step closer to the actual construction of the additional hospital facilities so urgently needed in this area," Hoekstra commented adding: "The time consuming phase of detailed planning is at last behind us."

The sealed bids will be opened March 29 at 2 p.m. in the presence of representatives of the Illinois department of health.

Final cost of the hospital expansion, which includes the construction of a new, four story wing, and remodeling of present hospital space, will be determined by the bids. The cost when planning got underway was estimated at $2,190,000.

Completed plans for the enlarged hospital, which will have 238 beds and 50 bassinets, compared to its present rating of 115 beds and 32 bassinets, are now in the hands of the contractors who have accepted the hospital's invitation to make bids. The firms include:

Bulley & Andrews, 1755 W. Armitage; Dahl-Stedman Co., 7 S. Dearborn; George A. Fuller Co., 300 W. Washington; A. L. Jackson & Co., 300 W. Washington; Charles B. Johnson & Co., 6 Michigan; James M. McHugh & Co., 6449 S. Park ave.; Poirer Construction Co., 2601 W. Pershing road and J. W. Snyder Co., 307 N. Michigan.

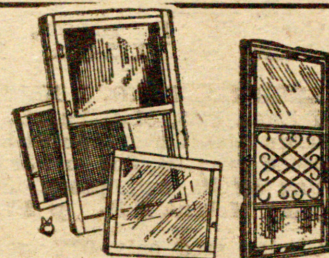

Firms in this area wishing to supply materials for the hospital project and subcontractors are advised to contact the contractors mentioned above. All things being equal, local suppliers will be given first consideration.

THREE ACCIDENTS—

wood resulted in the wreck of a truck and injury to its driver. From the report at the sheriff's office no other vehicle was involved.

The accident on U. S. 45 occurred a few minutes after 10 o'clock Friday night. A car driven by Glen Butterfield, 20, of 2127 N. Meade St., Chicago, was traveling north. Half a mile north of Route 30 the Butterfield car collided with an auto driven by the Rev. Johnnie C. Williams, 35, who also styles himself as Prophet Williams, of 2609 Tenth st., Milwaukee.

The crash occurred in front of the Leonard Patterson farm. According to investigators Williams had either turned into the Patterson driveway or was backing out of it. His car was struck in the middle on the right side and practically cut in two. Williams is said to have been driving a hardtop type of car, witnesses said the top popped off like the cap on a bottle of a highly carbonated beverage. Williams who was alone in his car, suffered head injuries.

There were seven occupants in the northbound car. The driver Glen Butterfield, was thrown out, and suffered head and possible internal injuries. His mother, Mrs. Claude Lee Butterfield, 43, of the same Meade street address, suffered a broken neck and was believed instantly killed.

Glen's wife, Arlene, 20, trapped in the car, suffered fractures to both ankles.

Mrs. Juanita Sparks, 21, a daughter of Mrs. Butterfield, and her husband Robert Sparks, 21 suffered head and back injuries. The Sparks, who reside at 5327 N. Natoma, Chicago had their two children with them, Robert, 2½ years old, and Marcia, 22 months. Robert escaped with slight injuries but Marcia died Sunday afternoon from spinal injuries.

Three doctors from the Hedges clinic at Frankfort came to the scene at once and after administering first aid had all of the injured taken to Silver Cross hospital. Mrs. Betty Patterson in front of whose home the accident occurred, is a registered nurse and she too gave first aid.

State police had difficulty in keeping the crowd of morbid viewers out of the way of the doctors and ambulance crews.

While enroute to the Rt. 45 crash one of the ambulance stopped on Rt. 30 and picked up the driver of the truck that had overturned only moments before. The driver, James Ryan, 31, is from Martinville, Va. He has leg and head injuries and was taken to Silver Cross hospital. The truck he was driving was described as a total wreck.

Killed on the curve near Marley when their car rolled over were John Flores, Jr., 53, of 1589 S. Kohn st., and Amos Glover, 51, of 4300 S. Ellis st., Chicago. The accident occurred about 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Both men were thrown a distance of approximately 50 feet when the car rolled.

Trade winds always blow from an easterly direction toward the equator.

Frankfort Ford Agency Gets Award

Ralph Show of the Cooper Show Ford garage dealers in Frankfort received the Ford award last week for outstanding service as Ford dealers. Joe Madden, Ford district representative from Chicago is seen here presenting the plaque to Mr. Show.

Finances—Sound; Management—Efficient; Spirit, always Competitive; Facilities, completely Modern. Signed by E. S. Alexander, District Manager, and other Ford officials."

A large banner was also presented the company for outstanding achievement in 1956 for the selling of cars, trucks and parts. (Robert Porter Photo)

Auxiliary Police Group to Meet With Sheriff March 24

The Will County Auxiliary police group will hold their regular meeting Sunday, March 10 in the Ann Rutledge school in Lincoln Estates. There are six new members from this area.

Patrolmen from this Auxiliary help in many ways. Patrolman Donald Ball helped at the auto accident on route 45 last Friday night. This group lends their help in many ways, gives first aid, directs traffic.

First aid is a requirement and the new members will soon be taking the 10 week first aid course.

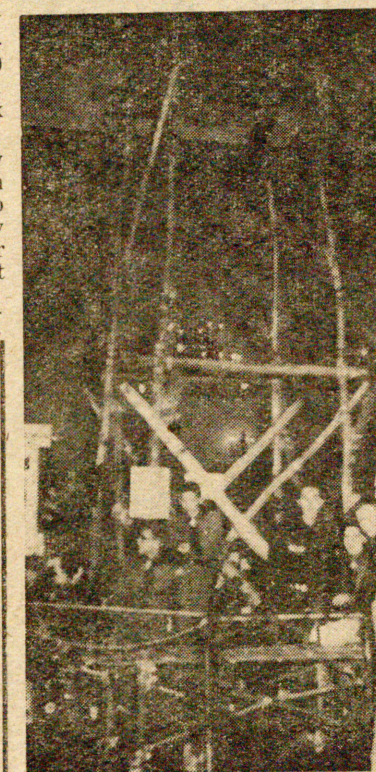

For the March 24 meeting it is expected that Sheriff Roy Doerfler will be present to advise, answer questions and inspect the Auxiliary and their work. It is desirable that all new members have their uniforms by the March 24 meeting. Sheriff Doerfler has lend much help to this group in organizing.

Mokena Scout Display Wins Top Honors

Boy Scout troop No. 40 of Mokena was one of the 25 units participating in the Cavalcade of Scouting staged last weekend in American Legion hall at Joliet.

The affair was directed by the Louis Joliet district and described as one of the most interesting scouting shows in its history.

The following subjects were presented: Outdoor skills, cycling, firemanship, leathercraft,

woodcraft, cooking, pioneering, soil conservation, plastercasting, art, basketmaking, seamanship, papermache, first aid, emergency service, marksmanship, camping, electricity, rocks and minerals, Indian lore, sea scouting, geology, papercraft and canoeing.

The Mokena troop received a plaque with a blue streamer for its display which had to do with pioneering. A signal tower, 18 feet high, constructed of tree trunks and limbs and bound together with homemade rope and binder twine, was erected by Troop 40. The entire display had a background of pine branches to give a woodsy touch.

The tower was eight feet square at the base with a four-foot platform on top. A work table to support the rope making equipment, two models of tripod dining tables and a set of pioneering tools completed the display.

More than 30 poles, ranging from four to 18 feet in length were required to make the tower. Add to these the 33 poles in the table and the 42 in the bridge, and the truck furnished by the New Lenox Lumber Co. to transport the stuff to and from Joliet had quite a load.

The display was manned by a separate crew for each show. On Friday evening it was the Wolf patrol, Jim Miller, Jim Davies, Lewis Akers, Todd Bennett, Ron and Dennis Mansfield, Wayne Swanberg, Ken DeCamp, Dennis Heim, John Selnick.

At the Saturday matinee, the Beaver patrol was in charge, Mark Muehler, Dan Williams, Ron Teague, Ron Badten, Todd Bennett, Jim Davies and Lewis Akers.

Ken Lorenz was the patrol leader at the evening and closing show. With him were Bill Alexander, Ray Lorence, Akers, Badten and Don Alexander.

Ken Lorenz, Senior Patrol Leader; Robert Munch, Quartermaster; Alexander, Assistant Scoutmaster; A. W. Janner and Scoutmaster Arthur Omland sparked the entire program from start to finish.

A blue streamer, such as won by Troop 40, was awarded for 85 or more points. There was no higher award. Each scout who participated in the show also received a gold neckerchief slide.

In 1861 there were two presidents in the United States—Lincoln in the North and Jefferson Davis in the South.

Portugal is due east of New York City.
